Dear Parent/Carer

Wow what a scorcher! The weather has really changed from last week and it will all be set to change again over the weekend. I suppose this reflects the constant changes that we are facing at the moment. More government guidance came out this week regarding the easing of some lockdown restrictions. Please be aware that the virus has not gone away, it is still out there, people can still be infected and therefore I ask that you continue to model and talk to your child about good hygiene practices. If we become complacent about that now we increase the risk of finding a case in school and a possible second spike.

Home Learning

Over the last 14 weeks we have seen a fantastic amount of work being completed by many children at home. Thank you SO much for persevering with this. It is those children who have engaged with the work that has been set by our teachers on a daily basis that will have a distinct advantage over those who have not when we get back to normal in September. We have been keeping a track of engagement and take up and those of you that have been reading with your child, completing times tables Rock Stars and making the effort to tackle things (even if you find them challenging personally) will have helped massively in allowing us to accelerate your child's progress so they are back on track more quickly. Remember that there is still time over the summer vacation to continue this.

Transition to new classes.

Over these last few weeks we are trying to make sure there is an opportunity for every child to have some form of contact with their child's class teacher from September. This might be face to face if you are a child in NR1 or 5 but it also might be via a virtual chat or a socially distanced activity on the field. We are working hard on this to make sure there is opportunity for all.

Roof

The school has many lovely aspects to it. It is spacious and has up to date technology embedded as part of its infrastructure. It also has a quirky inverted roof design over the hall. Whilst this looks very nice it creates very many problems as the metal roof expands and contracts with the heat and of course cracks in the seals start to appear. This is the situation at the moment and we are discussing with RLT what we can do to get a temporary fix in the first instance so that we can raise funds to have a proper repair completed. This means that the hall and surrounding area is out of bounds and although the area is fenced off we ask you to remind the children to take extra care and avoid the area with contractors on site over the next few weeks. All contractors hold the appropriate certification, clearances and follow out hygiene guidelines.

Have a great weekend everyone.

Kingsdown support

Although we were struggling with our roof last week, we were very grateful to Emma leigh-Bennett head at Kingsdown school and her colleagues for allowing us to use a classroom and hall for our priority group workers. As we are both part of the same Trust (River Learning Trust) it was really easy to pick the phone up to a colleague and ask for help. If you would like to know more about Kingsdown please read their latest Ofsted report here and find out more here. I'm sure you would receive a warm welcome if you wanted to visit.
