

Seven Fields Primary School-Newsletter

Dear Parents/Carers

As we enter a very exciting weekend for sport, it has been such a pleasure this week to celebrate the fellowship and camaraderie expressed by your children during sports day. I understand the frustrations of parents not being able to attend but if you have been paying attention to the statistics of this virus you will know, it is not going away. You will also know that schools have been told that restrictions will lift at the end of the academic year. We are still being affected by the virus and although we have been extremely lucky to date pupils and staff members still have to isolate themselves. We will maintain our current procedures until the end of the academic year. From September we will transition back to pre-pandemic business as usual as long as there is no further risk to our communities.

That being said, it is brilliant to hear how the country is coming together as England men's football team have reached the final of a major football tournament for the first time in a long time. Some schools have stated that they will be opening later on Monday morning but I'm afraid this will not be the case for Seven Fields. Children have had enough time off from learning and even a later start will be learning time wasted. However, I will make sure the office staff are considerate to punctuality rates on Monday morning. It is a good opportunity to teach your children the life skill of resilience when tired!

Fairness has been the theme this week and thanks to Greece, all of us benefit from the marvellous adventure that is the Olympic Games, created 28 centuries ago in Olympia and revitalised by Pierre de Coubertin in 1896. The Olympic motto is made up of three Latin words : Citius - Altius - Fortius. These words mean Faster - Higher - Stronger. Through their conduct, effort and commitment children made this week a positive one for sport. Our world today needs peace, tolerance and fellowship. Sport unites us all by overcoming differences and enabling fairness to be central to its thinking. I hope this is a message you can reinforce with your children this weekend.

We have two weeks until the end of the academic year but there is a heatwave beckoning and children will be spending time outside. Please can you make sure your child attends school with the appropriate clothing and head gear if the weather is excruciatingly hot.

I wish you all a pleasant weekend.
